E-DISCOVERY. YOU'VE GOT THIS

Get Proactive to Save Time, Money & Risk

WHAT'S HAPPENING?

Most organizations today are managing at least portions of the e-Discovery process in-house to keep some control over their data and budget.[1]

Improvements made in the e-Discovery market over the past year are finally making these solutions feasible for small and midsize law firms and legal departments.[2]

Legal requirements for the retention and access to corporate information are forcing organizations to revamp and formalize approaches to managing data as it ages.[3]

E-discovery events are typically reactive and often time-pressured. [4]

Average e-Discovery review cost is $5M annually.[5]
