Message from our Chief Executive Officer

Mimecasters,

Our value in the world derives from our ability to stop bad things from happening to good organizations by enabling them to Work Protected™. Every day we must deal honestly and fairly with our customers, our prospects, our trading partners, our competitors, and each other.

The Mimecast Way provides us with values, and our social impact and sustainability strategy provides us with tools, to make the right decisions for our community and environment.

We all have a personal and corporate responsibility to maintain the highest level of integrity and ethical standards as we fulfil our commitments. Please familiarize yourself with our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics in its entirety and incorporate it into your daily business activities.

Cheers,

Peter Bauer
OUR ACTIONS AS MIMECASTERS PROMOTE INTEGRITY FOR OUR COMPANY, THIRD PARTIES WITH WHOM WE DO BUSINESS, AND EACH OTHER.

Mimecast is committed to compliance with all applicable laws and regulations in the UK, the U.S., and everywhere else we do business. Additionally, as coordinated by our Compliance Office, we will cooperate fully with any inquiry or investigation by law enforcement or other regulatory authorities regarding any allegations of violation of the law by our directors, offices, or employees. A few obligations that are tantamount to our business are described below.

Prohibit Insider Trading

As part of who we are and our transparent management philosophy, Mimecasters may have access to material, non-public information about our customers, partners and other entities with whom we do business. Mimecasters must not use or share this information about any company conducting business with Mimecast for financial gain until it becomes public or is no longer material.

This obligation extends to members of our households (our spouse, significant other, child, parent, or other family member living in the same household).

What’s “material, non-public information”?
It’s information that a reasonable investor would consider important in making a decision to buy or sell company stock (e.g., mergers or acquisitions, new products, changes in senior executive management, non-public information on financial or company performance).

Make Things Better
Commitment to the Environment, Social, and Governance Framework

Mimecasters recognize that our commitment to global community resilience will only succeed with an equally robust commitment to protecting our environment and the conservation of natural resources. We must fully comply with applicable environmental laws and regulations, including those related to recycling and the disposal of wastes. We expect third parties with which we partner to share these commitments.

Mimecast is committed to supporting the communities in which we work and live. Although we work tirelessly to deliver cyber resilience more cost effectively, more simply, and more comprehensively than any other vendor by innovating through cloud technology, we also work to build more resilience in our world together through corporate donations, employee gift matching, and volunteerism.

We publish our Modern Slavery Act Disclosure Statement to demonstrate our commitment to supporting and promoting human rights in our supply chain and in the communities in which we live and operate. Mimecast has implemented key governance policies designed to demonstrate and enforce our commitment to supporting the resilience of our global community.
Involvement with Civic and Political Activities

We encourage Mimecasters to participate lawfully and respectfully in civic and political activities. However, these activities must be conducted on our own time and must not use any Mimecast facilities or assets, including funds for political contributions of any kind. Mimecasters are not permitted to represent that a political contribution was made on behalf of Mimecast.

What if a third party asks for a contribution to their charity?
